

GO CARIBBEAN!

10 GAY-FRIENDLY RESORTS

by Rich Rubin

Villa Being, Tobago

TOBAGO • Villa Being

Take a cliff overlooking verdant crags and the glistening Caribbean, add a fantasy villa of yellow and white buildings topped with jaunty spires, and throw in the nicest personnel this side of paradise. Result: Villa Being, where you can have the whole nine yards to yourself, or gather a group of friends for a memorable villa vacation. The three bedrooms lie in their own buildings, all with sea-view terraces; the infinity-edge pool also overlooks THAT view. The staff is there like magic when you want them, disappearing quickly when you want to be alone. They'll serve you dinner in a beautifully designed dining pavilion (with prime view, of course) unless you choose the outdoor table, surrounded by lush foliage and the flickering light of torches. Villa $1350 to $1950 for up to six people. Tel: 868-625-4443. www.being-tobago.com